

Functional Group Relationships and Retrosynthesis

Learning to recognize compounds as being products of a specific organic reaction is the process of retrosynthetic analysis - working a synthetic plan backwards.

